COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

About one half of the notices that will be mailed to people who will be removed from the voting list are ready to be mailed. It is a standard form that advises the person that his or her name has been removed from the voting list and gives the reason for removing the name. The person receiving the notice has 30 days to reply to the notice and state why his or her name should remain on the voting list. The revision of the notice does not concern people who continue to reside in Bethel. The revision removes people who have moved to another community and are no longer residents of Bethel.

A few loads of gravel have been hauled to some dirt roads that get muddy in the spring.

The dump road and the top of the dump will also be gravelled. At times it is difficult to throw waste over the edge of the dump but after the gravel is hauled in everyone should make an attempt to get their waste over the bank.

A very large number of the declarations of polls and estates have been received by mail this week.

The spring road work of street patching and sweeping and catch basin cleaning will begin shortly. After that work is done the regular road work will start.

JUDKINS ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

Cedric A. Judkins, Upton, has announced that he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for a six-year term as County Commissioner in the June Primaries.

A life-long resident of Upton, Mr. Judkins attended schools of Upton, graduated from Gould Academy, Bethel, and attended Gorham Normal School, now Gorham State Teachers College. He taught school in Upton and Weld. He married Jennie Sanborn and they have six children and several grandchildren. He has been employed by the Brown Company as a surveyor and the State as a Forest Fire Warden. He served as postmaster at Upton for several years.

Mr. Judkins owned and operated a store in Upton and at the same time was engaged in farming. In 1957 he sold the store to his son, Kendrick, and is now semi-retired.

Long interested in state and local affairs, Mr. Judkins has held several town offices. He served several years as chairman of the board of selectmen, and has also been tax collector and served on the superintendent school committee. He is an active member of Upton Grange and Oxford Pomona having held offices in both. Through his interest in state and local affairs and his work in the Grange, he is well known in Oxford County as well as other sections of the state.

GREENWOOD PARENT-TEACHER GROUP TO SPONSOR CABARET

Plans are well underway for an evening of dancing and entertainment at the Locke Mills Town Hall on Saturday, April 11.

General chairman for the event, states the theme will be basically springtime and aptly titled "The Daffodil Cabaret".

Dancing music will be provided by the Hathaways of Bryant Pond. The "Golden Rockets" and the "Balladettes" are two of the several acts which will highlight the affair. All acts will appear at intervals during the evening.

Mrs. Kaye Bolen who is in charge of decorating and usherettes will have as her assistants members of the Mt. Abram 4 H Club. Cabarettes will include Patty Dunham, Sharon Seane, Jo Anne Bickford, Dore Seane, Dottie Seane and Dore Bolen.

Refreshment chairman is Mrs. Joyce Hathaway. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Swan Jr. are in charge of table arrangements.

Reservations should be made before April 9th with Leland Dunham by phoning 875-2470 or 875-2701.

A 150-year old elm on the lawn of the Philip (Gardner) residence was felled this week. The stately old tree was over five feet in diameter at the stump.

EASTER BREAKFAST MARCH 29, 1964 Time: 7:00 A. M. Adults: 75c Children: 50c Methodist Church Dining Room Sponsored by Senior M. Y. F.

ANNUAL EASTER SUNRISE SERVICE, PARADISE HILL

The public is invited to attend the Annual Sunrise Service being held on the ledges at the summit of Paradise Road, Easter Sunday morning at 6:00 A. M.

The service this year is sponsored by the West Parish Congregational Church and the Bethel Methodist Church, with members of both churches sharing in the conducting of the service.

Following the Sunrise Service, all those attending are invited to return to the church of their choice for refreshment. A coffee hour is being held at the Congregational Church and the Methodist Youth Fellowship is serving a breakfast.

The snow cover at this time is very light and it is recommended that all who plan to attend, dress warmly and wear either rubbers or overshoes.

In case of stormy weather which would make it impossible to hold the service out of doors it will be held at the Congregational Church.

We hope to see many take advantage of the opportunity to rise early and greet the dawn on this significant Easter morning.

MT. ABRAM SKI CLUB SPONSORS RACES

Under overcast skies and with conditions somewhat on the fast and tricky side 23 competitors completed a combined slalom and giant slalom race on Sunday, March 22 at Mt. Abram.

The race was the climax to five racing instructions offered by the club members whose ages were from fourteen to twenty. Harold Brown, ski coach at Oxford Hills and one of the ski club's directors, gave free instructions for four consecutive Sunday's on racing technique.

Officials for the race were volunteers, club members of the ski club. Mr. Brown laid out the course on the East Peak. Five feet with the aid of Lester Bickford and Joe Brown, gate tenders, included. McKim, head of the Farm and Home Week served as starter and Harold Brown recorded the time of each participant.

Participants were classified according to their age group and winners are as follows:

11 years Brian Gasham 1:22 Jim McKinnell 4:10 Deb 4:20 Bickford 4:50

12 years Pat 1:40 Dan 1:50 Jo Anne Bickford 4:20 Mike Seane 4:50

13 years Paul McKim 2:50 Margaret Seane 4:15

14 years David Landon 3:30 Keith Dunham 4:44

Mrs. Ada Seane was guest for her home in Mallett's N. H. Sunday.

U. OF M. HOSTS FARM AND HOME WEEK MARCH 30-APRIL 2

A science forum developed around the theme "The Life About You" will be a special feature of the 1964 Farm and Home Week to be conducted at the University of Maine, March 30-April 2.

David H. Huntington, associate dean of the State University's College of Agriculture, said Thursday that the forum has been designed especially to acquaint high school juniors with some of the fascinating aspects of the life sciences.

The forum is slanted towards college preparatory students in their junior year of high school and will appeal most to those interested in science, according to Huntington.

Topics to be covered during the event include:

A Botanist Looks Inside the Plant, Animals and Medical Research, The Chemistry of the Foods You Eat, The Changing Forest, If It Is Living - It Eats You, Earth Science and You, The Great Transformation—The Struggle for Economic Development in Emerging Nations, Blood—Keep the Hazards Out of Your Transportation System, New Approaches in Wildlife Science and Man's Great Competitors.

The forum topics will be presented by 10 University of Maine specialists in the life sciences.

The forum, which begins at 10:00 a. m. Thursday, April 2, in the State University's Deering Hall, is being presented as an educational service to high schools in conjunction with the new Farm and Home Week theme: A Citizens' Forum.

This will be the first Farm and Home Week program developed specifically for Maine's younger generation, therefore enrollment will be limited. Schools interested in sending groups of juniors to the forum may obtain full details from Huntington at Winslow Hall, University of Maine, Orono.

Labels cannot wait open their registration soon. Girls from Bethel may go to the camp of their choice. Leaders will have information early in April.

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Allen will come to Bethel April 21 for an outdoor training session. Details to be announced later.

The next Telstar Neighborhood Meeting will be held in Rumford on May 12.

Andover-East Andover

— Mrs. Violet Swain, Cor. —

Seven members of the Sophomore Class competed in a speaking contest at the Andover Town Hall on March 18. Miss Julia Akers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Akers won first prize with an oration by Hegg "The Eleventh Volume." Miss Margaret Mills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Mills Jr. was second with a drama by Sawyer, "Late for a Date." Third prize was awarded to Miss Penelope Poor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archer Poor Jr. with an oration by Martin, "For Better or Worse."

Others participating were Miss Patricia Emens, "The Lie"; Miss Nancy Glover, "Man Without a Country"; Howard Perkins, "The Leper"; Miss Geraldine LeBlanc, "The American Ideal." Miss Emens won an honorable mention.

Thomas Michaud, son of Mr. and Mrs. Armand Michaud, a Senior at AHS, spoke a poem, "The Crucifixion." He did not compete in this contest but did represent Andover High in the South Western Maine Small School League Prize Speaking held at Casco High School on March 12. At that time he placed third in the boys division which was poems. Miss Akers also represented AHS in the girls division, which was Oration, and won a second prize.

On March 25, the Oxford County Prize Speaking will be held at Bridgton High School with Miss Akers participating in the Oration Class; Michaud in the Poem Class; Miss Mills in the Drama Division and Miss Victoria Michaud, a Junior at AHS, in the Humorous Division.

Acting as judges Wednesday evening were Mrs. Frank Morgan and Mrs. Merton Fox, Andover; and Horace Morse, assistant principal of Mexico High and Science teacher.

Chaperones were Miss Sandra White and Miss Susan Richard. Programs were in charge of Miss Donna Stinson and Miss Virginia Bell. Mrs. Gerald Dranis, English teacher at AHS was coach.

Mrs. Thomas Palmatier Jr., Andover Booth Chairman for the Hospital Fair to be held in October, held a coffee at her home on March 17. Co-chairmen for the project will be Mrs. Warren Percival and Mrs. Fernand Favreau.

Other committees appointed at this gathering were Publicity and Tickets, Mrs. George Meisner and Mrs. Robert Ball; Decorating, Mrs. Keith Hodsdon, Mrs. David Stillman and Mrs. David Percival; Prize Committee, Mrs. John Jacobson, Mrs. David Percival and Mrs. James Bodwell; Cider committee, Mrs. John Richardson; Car tickets, Mrs. Fernand Favreau; Cabaret chairman, Mrs. Eva Hutchins.

The theme of the Fair this year will be "Winter Wonderland". The name of the Andover booth has not been decided.

Attending this meeting were Mrs. Warren Percival, Mrs. George Meisner, Mrs. Keith Hodsdon, Mrs. Bernard Hutchins, Mrs. Waldo Bernslee, Mrs. Neil Smith, Mrs. Fernand Favreau, Mrs. Eva Hutchins, Mrs. John Jacobson, Mrs. Maurice Richard, Mrs. Robert Ball and the hostess.

Mrs. Louis Hall Sr., Mrs. Theodore Conrad and Mrs. Craig Andrews were hostesses at a personal shower at the home of Mrs. Conrad on Mar. 17 for Mrs. Delmar Parker. After the opening of the gifts, games were played and refreshments served. Mrs. Hall made the special cake. Attending were Mrs. Ed Hutchins, Mrs. George Chase, Mrs. Hershall Hall, Mrs. Harold Hutchins, Mrs. Ross Brown, Mrs. Ivan Conrad, Mrs. Paul Richard, Mrs. James Sennett Jr., Mrs. Robert Dunn, Mrs. Ira Gammon, Jr. Mrs. Walter Jodrey, Mrs. Owen Morton, Mrs. Herbert Dunham, Mrs. Hanson Morton, Mrs. Elton Coolidge, Roberta Jodrey, Barbara Hutchins, Rosemary Jodrey, Maggie Jodrey and Loreta Jodrey. Sending gifts were Mrs. Madeline Gammon, Mrs. John Jodrey, Mrs. Russell Veeder, Mrs. Neil Myhrall, Mrs. Joseph Cote, Mrs. Kenneth Meisner and Florence Hall.

The Andover School Planning Committee met on March 11 at the high school with the three members of the school committee, two selectmen, the superintendent of schools and a few citizens present. The guest for the evening was Mr. Steward and another man representing the Sheridan Corporation. They presented details on the "Butler Building" type of construction, giving examples of cost and construction based on the new Greenville school being constructed.

He stated a cost of $1255 per square foot unfurnished, without blackboards, but with plumbing, heating and lighting included. Fee for architectural and engineering would amount to a 1-1 1/2%.

Mr. Steward offered to draw up a design for a building based upon need for six classrooms, with two of these connected to form an all purpose room, of free space, etc., as outlined at the previous meeting. This design would be ready in about three weeks at the earliest.

Selectman Arthur Whitten Sr. moved that Capt. Fred Allen contact an architect to come and speak to the group.

Since this meeting Capt. Allen has contacted Douglas Goodspeed, Architect, of Portland. He will speak at a meeting to be held at the high school on March 25 at 7:00 P. M. on the services of an architect, go over various types of construction, steps in a building program, estimated costs of construction, and answer questions from the group.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Morton are the parents of a son, Eric Charles, born at the Rumford Community Hospital on Mar. 8. Patients at the C. M. G. H. this week were Naham Meisner and his brother, Kenneth Meisner.

20 SECONDS with the NAZARENE

For six hours he had hung in agony upon the cross bearing the wrath and judgment that must fall upon sin. He had come into the world for this very purpose of paying sin's penalty and purchasing man's redemption. Now the work was done and he could declare from the cross "It is finished!"

He has purchased our salvation, have we availed ourselves of His gift?

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR...

To the Editor:

Last week I explained in this column that Bethel's tuition rate is Bethel's per pupil cost as calculated by the State. I have since been asked if we could not reduce this charge, since we receive state subsidy.
We cannot because the state subsidizes Bethel only for its own students, excluding income from tuition students before calculating subsidy. The state does, however, subsidize the sending towns directly.

A School
Committee Member

Dear Sir:
Please print the enclosed letter to substantiate the information from the Bethel School Committee. It might be worthy to note that Gilead receives the lowest rate of subsidy (18%) because of a high state valuation and a low school pupil population.

This should end all doubts and no further questions need arise.

Mrs. Cynthia A. Mason

R. F. D. 2

Bethel, Maine

Dear Mrs. Mason:

Your letter to the Department of Education regarding school affairs in Gilead has been given consideration.

With respect to your question about state payment to Bethel for tuition of Unorganized Territory pupils, I will advise that the amount paid was $237.78 which was the per capita cost in Bethel.

You also asked about deorganization. It appears that if Gilead were to deorganize the state would be required to approximate the state average rate plus 10 mills. Last year that would have been $316. This would have required an approximation of $19,943 for schools if the local expenditure was that great. Being an unorganized township simply means that no state aid is provided until you have exceeded the state average plus 10 mills. In Gilead's case it appears that the tax at the local level would be higher by the amount that the state now subsidizes Gilead's education. In other words, if the state were deorganized the tax burden would be increased by a minimum of approximately $3160.

With regards to a superintendent's salary and office expenses, the state makes a payment of $1320 to each superintendent and also pays to the town a subsidy on the amount paid by that town. The rate of subsidy varies according to the wealth or lack of wealth of a town from 18 to 50%. There is no direct state payment of office expenditures but most of these expenditures are subsidized in the same manner as other town expenditures. A superintendent who serves a unit in the Unorganized Territory is employed by the state and paid by the state. Such employment is entirely separate and apart from school union or town expenditures for this purpose.

All organized towns must be grouped with other towns into a school union for the employment of a superintendent even though no school is maintained.
I hope this gives you the information desired.

Sincerely yours,
Kernell S. Nickerson,
Commissioner

March 23, 1964

To the Editor,
The Bethel Citizen,
Bethel, Maine

With respect to Gilead school affairs and the figures that pertain to them, I would state that the Superintendent of School prepared them and reported them to the towns involved. It would seem fair to assume they are correct, without further audit, for the purposes of a letter to this paper. In 1962 Gilead paid Bethel $1592.50 tuition for elementary school pupils, or $184.00 per-pupil. In 1963 it paid $6501.54, or $260.00 per-pupil. No matter how it is sliced, these are two facts that specious argument doesn't change. In both years Gilead sent 25 elementary school pupils to the Bethel schools, so the superintendent has told us. The result to Gilead taxpayers has been over a 40% increase in elementary school costs, for no reason other than an arbitrary rate of tuition demanded of the Gilead School Committee by the Bethel School Committee. It is not enough to say that a formula developed by an association of schoolmasters in arriving at a per-pupil cost is relied on by the Bethel School Committee and thereby, relieves it of any responsibility in establishing an unrealistic and unreasonable tuition charge. The Bethel Committee has that responsibility alone. But it does not have a mandate to pursue a course, indorsed by an association for general statewide purposes, undermined by a consideration of facts of local origin. That is bureaucratic of its worst and utterly arbitrary. If the Gilead enrollment remains constant while the other enrollment drops, costs remaining constant, also then the Gilead tuition charge could well be doubled. Why isn't this arbitrary? While Bethel elementary school costs rose less than 10% in 1963, Gilead's rose 40%, but it had no more pupils than in the preceding year.

As public school systems are not designed as profit-making organizations, it would seem that a tuition charge should be established on the basis of actual costs, with perhaps a cash-in for future needs and uncertainties.

Other town expenditures. A superintendent who serves a unit in the Unorganized Territory is

Dear Sir:

In last week's Letters to the Editor a young citizen of Bethel (area) cried out in protest over adult discrimination against the teenage sets latest idols, The Beatles.

Of course the teenager versus parent and adult situation existed long before the Beatles were even born. But, to use this group of mop heads as an arguing point is completely absurd.

In the first place, teenagers, what are you kicking about? Most of you have more free spending money than the average adult, a lot of you drive newer and more expensive automobiles, and best of all you have free room and board and obviously nothing more important to worry about than whether Mom and Pop like the Beatles or not.

According to the letter mentioned above the Beatles are doing a great public service.
They are giving the teenagers a goal, someone to look up to and respect.

I agree that teenagers, in fact everyone, needs someone to look up to and respect. But in my opinion the Beatles hardly fill the bill.

If you chose the Beatles as your idols, to be respected and looked up to, you are missing something. You are overlooking all the everyday people around you who deserve more respect than the Beatles could deserve if they all got crew cuts.

How about Dad, the guy who goes through the grind day after day trying to make ends meet and still give you three squares a day and a roof over your head. I'll bet he'd appreciate your respect and admiration a lot more than the Beatles do.

Then there's Mom, the one who sees that you get clean clothes to wear, and decent meals, and in some cases even helps down an outside job besides. Wouldn't you say she deserves a big share of that respect?

What about all the taxpayers who pay plenty out of their pockets to give you kids a decent education. Plenty of those taxpayers never got the opportunity that they are handing you for free. A lot of them get their education on the end of an axe or a crosscut when they were your age, and yet you're offended because they criticize your little dream world that doesn't even exist.

I could name a lot more that certainly deserve a large measure of respect, and yet the very people that deserve your respect are the ones whom you most disrespect.

I personally witness your disrespect to the townspeople almost everyday as you enter and leave your school campus. A great many of you gang up in the middle of the streets or your way to and from campus, and like a herd of cattle you numbly stare, grumble, and even use profane language and gestures toward any motorist who dares to attempt threading his way through. This is not only disrespectful it also displays complete lack of courtesy and intelligence.

As for your idols, the Beatles, just what are they? Nothing but a group of ordinary flesh and blood human beings who came up with a new gimmick for making a few bucks, quite a few bucks in fact.

So, here they are larking around the country raking in thousands of dollars from a bunch of teenagers who are too immature to see them for their real value, which is nothing. To put it bluntly, teenagers, you are being taken in by a group of highly promoted showmen who can't even put on a decent show. A lot of you are buying their records with money that is coming from your parents' pockets, and you ask why are they kicking?

You've got a long way to go and a lot of learn so you'd better get used to the fact that you don't know it all. When the adults start criticizing it just could be they are right.

Right now everyone of you is indebted to every adult in our community and our nation that debt will be paid in full which you contribute your share to the development and high standards to which our country is dedicated.

Don't you think it's time to face up to your task and stop acting like children.

Set your goals on something worthwhile not something that tomorrow will be forgotten.

FRITZ TYLER

Fritz J. Tyler died early Sunday morning, March 22, at a Lewiston hospital where he had been a patient for eight days.

Born in Albany, Dec. 26, 1873, he was the son of William and Dolly Paine Tyler. He was a retired Bethel and Fryeburg businessman. Nov. 18, 1896, he married the late Grace L. Bartlett. She died in 1933.

Surviving are a daughter, Esther, Bethel; and a son, Lauris, Albany, N. Y.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon from the Greenwood funeral home, Bethel. Burial in Riverside Cemetery, Bethel.

MRS. GEORGE THOMPSON

Mrs. Grace Decker Thompson of Bethel died Wednesday, March 25, at an Augusta hospital. She was born August 8, 1876, daughter of John and Sarah Goodrich Decker. She was the widow of George Thompson, who died in 1952. Survivors include nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. from the Greenwood funeral home with burial at Greenwood Cemetery, Dixfield. Visiting hours Friday evening, 7 to 9.

6th GRADE GIRL SCOUTS

The Sixth Grade Junior Girl Scouts met at the home of their leader, March 19. We opened our meeting by saluting the flag and repeating the Girl Scout promise. We made a list with names and telephone numbers of our doctor, the police, hospital, and fire department.

Then we made a list of the things that go in a first aid kit, this helps to earn the Health Badge. Refreshments of brownies and drink were served. Roberta Gilbert and Amy Kennett were hostesses. We closed our meeting by singing Good Night Ladies. — Scribe, Donna E. Brown.

Troop 533 met at the Legion Rooms, March 24. Different troops were assigned to do different subjects. All Girl Scouts that take the roller skating badge will meet at the Legion Rooms Saturday at 9:15 to go down to Rumford to receive their badges. Your Scribe, Elaine Connor.
